Shri Shivaji College of Arts, Commerce & Science, Akola

Department of English

Profile

Summary and Highlights

The English department was established in 1963 and it is as old as the college. The department has been marching on hand in hand with the motto of the institution, right from the beginning, under the able leadership of the then and current Principal. In these efforts we have proudly surmounted many challenges and have achieved success in achieving the set goals with dedicated efforts.

The department of English is the largest department in the college as we have students from all faculties Humanities, Science, commerce & Home Science enrolled. The college and the department share the common pursuit for academic excellence at every level. We also recognise the importance of progress as human, and work accordingly in this regard. The department has substantial number of faculty, well versed and trained in their field of both language and literature.

To impart the English language skills to the students mainly from underprivileged section has always been the mission of the department. We, as a department, have both UG and PG courses for students that focuses upon the communicative skills and the overall growth of a student as a person. Along with the regular courses we have the career oriented course. We also conduct the remedial and extra coaching classes for the betterment of the students, both from strong and weak group of students. The department faculties believe in developing the literary sense of students, as literature always prove vital in blooming into a good human being. The faculties are also committed to the effective teaching and researchto help student develop the critical and creative outlook. We have proudly maintained the atmosphere of interactive participation in classes and also in the department. The department of English has a well stacked library of its own that the students benefit from. We use both traditional and the modern technology to make students understand the topics more properly. We have a state of art language laboratory and also have audio-visual facility in the department. The department believes in changing as per the time and the faculties also develop their knowledge that profits the students in the end.

Apart from regular teaching the department, every year, conduct many beneficial programmes for the students. In every session we organise Student Seminars, Workshops, Wall-Magazine, English Essay Competition, Elocution Contest, etc.
